

With the discover of the Romero and Romero South using our systematic approach of prospecting and geophysics, together with our previous experience and proven development success in the Dominican Republic, we have a better understanding of the signature for identifying new Romero type mineralizations.

Below are some of the propperties used to identify Romero, and by using this knowledge we can clearly define desireable targets within our Tireo Project.

